North West Conference Opened By Chairman

The twenty-seventh annual conference of the North West Canada Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church was officially opened by the chairman, Bishop E. W. Praetorius, D.D., L.L.D., of St. Paul, Minn., in the name of the Triune God, on Wednesday, June 3, at 8 p.m. Rev. T. E. Jesse introduced the bishop to the congregation.

The bishop voiced a sincere prayer for our newly crowned Queen Elizabeth II and then brought a scholarly well thought out and stirring message on 1 - Col. 1:9, 10; 15:58; 10:15 - 11:27. "God has given us a royal invitation to the fellowship of His Son. It is the fellowship we are to share and have a partnership in His desires, ambitions and activities. Through the observance of the Lord's Supper we proclaim His death. The fellowship which is in Christ is the most profound and significant thing in the universe." The observance of communion followed the message.

Dr. W. R. Montgomery of Dayton, Ohio, director of adult and brotherhood work in the denomination was welcomed and made a speech on the four phases of adult work of which he is director.

Dr. M. N. Berger, associate secretary of the department of home ministries, Church extension of the general board of missions, was welcomed and invited to sit in the conference bar as an advisor. Throughout the conference the theme of guest speakers was "Christ calls to Christian Growth." This was emphasized and illustrated in many ways for the education and benefit of those present.

The North West Canada Conference has grown and another field of labor has been added. An Edmonton church will be built and Rev. A. G. Knopp of Vancouver will be in charge of this new work.

There are 84 fields of labor in the four western provinces, with 34 ministers, 3312 church members and 187 members in the Sunday schools. There are 495 women in the missionary societies.

In the awards for achieving goals Didsbury was mentioned.

Greetings were conveyed to the conference from the board of bishops of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa.

Successful Conference Held By Didsbury Constituency

About 80 delegates and members braved the muddy roads on Tuesday June 9 to attend the 34th annual conference of the Didsbury Constituency Women's Institute, held in Knox United Church, Mrs. R. Fisher, convener, presided, assisted by Mrs. A. Waldriff.

Due to floods conditions in the south Mrs. R. J. Tait of Hanna, the newly-elected director of District 3 South had to detour by Calgary so did not arrive until late afternoon.

In the address of welcome, Mrs. C. Gibbs extended a warm welcome to all members, to which Mrs. G. Hoskins graciously responded.

Seven institutes, Bancroft, Zella, Westcott, Melvin, Lone Pine, Rugby and Mountain View, were represented, as were two of the girls' clubs, Lone Pine Orioles and Rugby Blue Bells.

Secretaries of the Institutes reported on the membership, which now stands at 165 for Didsbury, roll calls; means of raising money and general remarks on the social activities.

All institutes have been active in Red Cross work donated to the Frank Chaffin Fund, European Floods Relief, Salvation Army and each branch had canvassed for the Cancer Fund.

A thermate drainage pump had been purchased for the local hospital as the year's project, at a cost of $130.00, the expense shared by eight branches.

Entertainment for the day was provided by one item from each branch as follows: songs by Barbara and Sharon Luft for Zella; a reading, "I'll Get There Too," by Mrs. J. Hoesgood Sr. for Rugby; a solo, "Galway Bay," by Joyce Schumaker; for Lone Pine; a piano solo by Bonnie Hauser for Bancroft; a piano solo, "The Butterflies," by Geraldine Pulkerth for Mountain View; the Westcott Institute rendered a delightful version of the Doxology as prepared for Queen Elizabeth's Coronation.

The highlight of the day's entertainment was the musical skit given by the four teenaged members of Melvin Philharmonia orchestra. Miss Emily Dupont was pianist for the day with Mrs. Ross Youngs as song leader.

A silver chalice, the trophy for the aggregate number of points for handicraft and home economics again went to the Melvin Institute, with 48 points. Bancroft placed second and Westcott third. Mrs. R. McNaughton made the presentation to Mrs. E. Dupont.

Olaf N. Ausenhus Dies In Calgary

Olaf N. Ausenhus, 87, formerly of this district, died Monday at his Calgary home. Mr. Ausenhus home-stayed here in 1900 and moved to Calgary to live about 15 years ago. He is survived by his wife, Dorothy, Calgary; three sons, Edmund and Wilfred of Didsbury, and Haakon, of Calgary; a daughter, Marie Ausenhus, three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at the convention tent on the W. Ausenhus farm on Friday at 2 p.m. Mr. Drummond and associates will conduct the service. Didsbury Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

The handicraft competition was displayed in the Lutheran Church basement. It consisted of embroidered pillow slips, laundry bag, stuffed toy, pot holders, knitted dolls, rugs, mitts, crocheted child's cap and mittens, knitted child's cardigan and a patch work crib cover. A chiffon cake, a plate of assorted fancy tea cookies and a nut date cake, completed the home economics display in the United Church basement.

Miss M. Smith, home economist of Red Deer, and Miss Moseeson of the Old School of Agriculture, judged the exhibits, pointing out errors in work which had fallen short of grading, thus furnishing guidance for the betterment of future exhibits. Miss Smith suggested the use of a booklet "Standards for judging in preparing articles and also that branches avail themselves of the services of home economists for demonstrations a little more frequently."

A silver chalice, the trophy for the aggregate number of points for handicraft and home economics again went to the Melvin Institute, with 48 points. Bancroft placed second and Westcott third. Mrs. R. McNaughton made the presentation to Mrs. E. Dupont.

UPSETTING SIR HUMPHREY

Don't miss seeing Newfoundland's fine capital — "Halifax," advised a U.S. magazine the other day.

A few days later in Washington Senator Paul Douglas asked if it weren't true that Newfoundland "recently was compelled to give up her status as an independent Commonwealth of the British Empire and to become a protectorate, more or less, of the Dominion of Canada?"

Senator Estes Kefauver was quick to reply: "That is correct, and I think the situation there is becoming increasingly bad."

All this may make Newfoundlanders boil and cause the bones of Sir Humphrey Gilbert to do a slow roll in their watery grave. But it should delight the rest of us, says The Financial Post. For here surely is positive proof that the "Great Island" is part of Canada.

It must be. Because our American friends are treating it with that special ignorance and air of mystery which they ascribe to all things Canadian.

Heavy Entry In Essay Competitions

The Rural Safety Division of the Alberta Safety Council reports an exceptionally heavy entry in the second of two essay competitions conducted this year throughout the rural schools in the province.

School division winners are as follows:

Grades 5 and 6: Superintendent, X. P. Crispo, M.A.; pupil, Reid Thompson, Samis School; teacher, F. M. Strong.

Winner, grades 7 and 8: pupil, Gail Phillips, Rosebud School; teacher, W. E. Blore.

The exceptional number of entries in this contest is probably due to the fact that all essays were restricted to the one subject: "Tractor Safety." With an average of more than one tractor for each of Alberta's 84,000 farmers, the interest in power machinery is very high. The need for extreme care in the operation of tractors is evident from the number of fatal accidents in which this machine is involved.

Surveys by the National Safety Council in the United States indicate that from 15 to 20 deaths may be expected in a year from 100,000 tractors.

Last year in Alberta, with about 90,000 tractors in operation, there were 29 deaths, which makes our fatality rate considerably higher than average.

School division prizes consist of attractive wall plaques to be hung in the schoolroom and a smart lapel pin for the pupil who wrote the winning essay.

The best essays from both contests are now in the hands of a special committee and the winners of the cash scholarship awards for the whole province should be announced very soon. These scholarship awards are $50.00 for the best essay for both contests and $25.00 each for the next two. As in the previous contests, the essay committee has found the advice and co-operation of the provincial departments of education and agriculture invaluable.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

While the seeding season is behind schedule, there is no cause for undue alarm over the crop prospects. The delay in these parts has resulted chiefly in a decrease in wheat acreage, since the long ripening period of wheat leaves little room for seeding after June 1. But what revenue farmers lose in wheat, they hope to gain back in barley. Agricultural officials estimate that the increase in barley may be 15 per cent greater than originally anticipated before the rains stepped in.

We are singularly fortunate in Central Alberta. The country is ideally suited for a mixed farming program. The soil is predominantly rich, black loam, and the harvest is always bountiful. The climate offers a fine mixture of moisture and sunshine, and in this great growing weather the pasture is green for fat roaming cattle. And there is plenty of feed in winter.

It's a double-edged security guaranteeing success in agriculture, and most district farmers know it and are thankful for it.

OF COURSE I knew all along that an idle tractor wasn't making money. But I didn't have the cash for the other machinery I needed to keep my tractor busy. That's why I went to the Royal Bank to see about those Farm Improvement Loans.

The Manager at the Royal quickly arranged the loan and I got the machinery I needed. That new equipment is paying off—and so is my tractor!

Ask for a copy of this booklet. It tells all about farm improvement loans.

Through The Study Window

Rev. C. C. Armstrong

The 29th meeting of the Alberta Conference of the United Church of Canada, took place in Robertson Church, Edmonton, June 4 to 10. The building, with its soaring spire, stained glass windows, its warm and beautiful atmosphere, was our habitation of the spirit for nearly a week. The new church hall, which has been added to the original church building, provided comfortable and adequate rooms for committee meetings, literature displays, banquets and other features of the conference.

Enroute to the conference sessions one morning, one passed by a theatre where a double feature was being presented. One film was "What Price Glory?" and the other was "Hellbound." The conference also had something of the nature of a double feature. The first feature is glorious, the second, if not hell-bound, is at least "earthbound." At times one was caught up in the moving atmosphere of worship and praise, and one was aware of the Presence of the Spirit. At other times one felt that the building—it was not in Edmonton—needed better ventilation, or on the other hand, that some long-winded brother needed rather less air than he already had.

The highest moments of every conference are those times when the young men and women are being ordained as ministers or commissioned as missionaries. As they witness the reality of their call, as they profess their faith and make their declaration of purpose, one is profoundly thankful and hopeful. Nor does one forget the steady, daily support through prayer and devotion, of lay people within the pastoral charges, who will be working with them in the service of the congregation.

This year the conference settlement committee was faced with the situation where both young people are needed as candidates for ordination, and where congregations must carry on without the help of an ordained leader.

There were 31 vacancies, and only six men to be placed. Twenty-five areas will be left with only partial supply or none at all. A revival of a truly evangelical passion for the salvation of mankind is stirring within the church, but as yet while the field is white unto harvest, the laborers are few.

This is only a brief and sketchy account of the conference. There is further opportunity to learn more of the work of the church. The Rev. Dr. Thomas Hart, superintendent of missions, will be guest speaker at anniversary services at Westcott and Didsbury on Sunday, June 21. There will be communion and reception of new members at the evening service in Knox, and anniversary dinner at Westcott. All those in full communion are expected to attend.

Solar stove

In India, scientists have worked out a way to cook food by sun-power. A polished aluminum bowl suspended above a cooking pot directs the sun's rays to a mirror, which reflects the heat to the bottom of the pot. It sounds a bit complicated to us—but the fact is that the solar cooker turns out a meal as fast as a 300-watt electric stove.

It's just one more indication that food and aluminum go together—in containers, utensils, foil and in the equipment used by the dairying and food processing industries. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

THE WHEAT POOL STORY

At quite a few shipping points local Pool Elevators have been "plugged". This created an unfortunate condition for Pool members there who want to deliver grain to their own facilities. In some instances Pool members have asked the question "Why advertise for patronage of Pool Elevators when there is no room in the Pool Elevators at our point?"

It should be remembered, however, that there are 486 Alberta Wheat Pool country elevators and in many of these there is ample space for grain deliveries. Pool publicity is, therefore, directed to the farm people surrounding such delivery points.

Furthermore, a publicity program to be successful must be comprehensive and continuous. It is important that the farm people should be continuously reminded of the advantages of supporting the Alberta Wheat Pool.

This organization has been largely instrumental in keeping down costs of handling grain. Its presence and strength in an important division of economic life in this province has prevented a drift towards monopoly practices. Pool Elevators are operated on a cost basis with excess earnings returned to Pool members. Nine-fifty per cent of Alberta Pool earnings in the 1951-52 crop year went right back into the farmers' pockets.

Pool Elevator policies are based on the desires of working farmers and on experiences gained over many, many years of co-operative effort. The democratic system under which the Wheat Pool is operated makes it responsive to the aims and desires of "operating farmers".

Alberta Wheat Pool publicity has constantly followed a pattern of public education. People in villages, towns and cities are continually made aware of the vital importance of agriculture to the economy of the province and to the Canadian nation. In no other province in Canada has agriculture's importance received such a deserved measure of publicity.

"The Wheat Pool Story" is an important one. Its aim is to build a lasting and growing farmer co-operative which will be of service to agriculture in generations to come. Also to create a sympathetic atmosphere to every other farmer co-operative in this province.

CANADA PREPARES TO DEAL WITH DISASTER

HOW ARE WE SETTING UP DISASTER DEFENCES?

Aim of Canada's civil defence services for dealing with disaster is, broadly to minimize the toll of catastrophe, in terms of human suffering, to keep loss to a minimum, to maintain production and bolster the "will to fight", where there is a hostile force to combat, and to maintain the "will to come back" from natural calamity.

Government manuals issued for public information, detail the essential measures to be undertaken as designed to reduce loss of life and injury, to afford medical and other assistance to the civil population, to ensure that essential production will continue, to restore public utilities and services as quickly as possible and to mitigate property damage which may have been caused.

Since civil defence, in its very essence is the assurance of the continuity of community services, the main operational responsibility, apart from overall planning, training and co-ordination, falls on those local municipal agencies which are called upon from day to day to maintain the normal amenities of life in Canada's urban communities and other organized areas.

Thus, civil defence authorities point out, self-help and mutual aid — keys to the defeat of disaster — are responsibilities of each and every citizen. The local governments — the municipalities — are responsible for the provision of an organization so that the people can produce co-ordinated self-help.

Provincial governments are charged with providing mutual aid between communities, and the federal government's role is that of ensuring that appropriate defence measures are taken, that there are services to put them into effect, and that such activities are co-ordinated for maximum effectiveness.

DEFENCE AREAS

For civil defence purposes, Canada is divided into target, mutual aid and mobile support and reception areas. Their names are self-explanatory. They embrace every section of the country — cities most likely to be attacked or where disaster would wreck the heaviest toll communities not so likely to be struck, where supporting aid could be mobilized quickly to help those which suffer, and the rest of the country where, in addition to emergency relief, facilities could be enlisted for care of victims of the areas devastated.

DEFENCE SERVICES

Communities organized to deal with disaster are setting up forces which include: police, with volunteer auxiliaries; fire, with volunteers to meet extraordinary fire hazards; health services, organized for the treatment of casualties and maintenance of community health standards; ambulance volunteers for rapid movement of casualties; rescue workers, for recovery of people trapped in collapsed buildings; welfare volunteers, to reduce such stress in the public as disaster may bring; engineers, to aid in restoring public utilities, clearing debris, etc., and wardens, to provide aid, information and leadership to local groups and individuals in coping with their troubles.

ORGANIZING SPACE

The federal government has gone far to see that adequate services are established, trained and equipped. It has provided warning systems to possible target areas, contributed to the cost of provincial civil defence projects, underwritten part of the cost of standardizing such essential tools as fire-fighting equipment, trained thousands of people who, in turn, will insure that in approved civil defence methods, provided special radiological and other instruments, and has carried on a continuing information program to tell Canadians what they should do if disaster strikes.

The government has also done much to alert and prepare medical people, social workers and others needed to care for casualties, and has stockpiled medical supplies and other essential equipment at strategic points across the country.

The provinces have all set up civil defence organizations and many of the major cities have established and are training strong forces for emergency duty.

Canada is indeed preparing for concerted action to tackle whatever emergency may arise. Not the least important of her efforts has been directed towards enlisting the active interest and co-operation in these measures of the individual citizen. Self-help being the essence of civil defence, the country is anxious that everyone should know what to do in disaster and that every community should be so organized, trained and equipped that loss, both human and material, would be kept to a minimum.

Bureaucracy is like malaria; once it gets in your blood you never seem to get rid of it.

Agricultural SERVICE BOARD NOTES

W.K. Snyder,
Field Supervisor

Notice: I am happy to be able to announce to you that an assistant has been secured to help me in weed control for the summer months. Mr. Jack McDonald of Harmattan, who is an experienced farmer himself, and is well acquainted with weeds and the problems they create, is to be my assistant. If you have a weed problem or know of one that should be looked after, do not hesitate to get in touch with us and Mr. McDonald or myself will do our best to give advice on control methods. I solicit your kindly co-operation in behalf of my assistant.

Dandelions: There seems to be more dandelions around everywhere this summer than ever before. It may well be that we will have to consider them as weeds and take measures to eradicate them if they continue to increase.

If you have a lawn that is infested and want to clear them out, use 2,4-D and a knapsack sprayer. I use a cupful of 2,4-D fluid to about 3 gallons of water. This is a fairly strong solution but dandelions take a strong solution to kill them.

Be very careful to keep the nozzle of the sprayer moving constantly and don't try to drench any particular plants as this is not necessary and furthermore it may brown off the grass. Do not spray in the vicinity of flower plants or ornamental shrubs because the fumes or vapor of the 2,4-D is also very deadly.

Unless you pay special heed to these precautions you may find yourself in the "doghouse" after injuring some of your wife's plants.

Advice to young men eager for success — sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock.

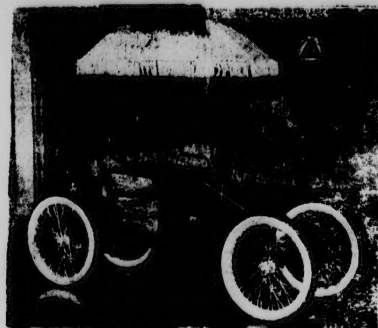

Busy Towns . . .

The town cry from Atlantic to Pacific is the same. Too much for municipal government to do with too little money.

The plain truth is that municipalities across Canada have too much to do. They are providing services which provincial or federal governments should take over completely; things like children's aid, homes for the aged; unemployment relief and housing; perhaps even hospitals. The day is long since passed when a town could pay for the keep for a foundling child for a year for $25 or when any one municipality could cope with unemployment.

Most of the provinces are now working on new definitions of provincial and municipal functions. The fruits of their efforts cannot come to soon.

May they remember as well in their deliberations that while there may be three levels of governments to spend tax money, there is only one person to pay it.

Automobiles like the above and some 35 others, are operating in Canada today (mainly in the east) because a group of nine men have combined nostalgia and a love of mechanics to keep the automobile past alive. They have banded together in the Duster and Goggles Club. Their main aim is to find and rebuild early models of Canadian cars.

Constituency W.I. Conference

Mrs. R. Long reported that a building had been purchased and it was hoped the Old Folks' Home could be established by fall. The delegation felt this would be a worthy year's project and voted to furnish one room with essentials.

Mrs. R. J. Tait spoke briefly on "Home and Country," which celebrates its 22nd anniversary this year and they hoped to have a 100 per cent subscription in every W.I. member's home. She also expressed a hope that communities would prepare a Tweedsmuir history. Also that a doctor from the Arthritis Society had addressed the Edmonton convention and suggested that pamphlets aiding arthritis sufferers be circulated through the institutes and that funds to provide mobile units might be supplied through branches.

The standing committees reported on papers studied as follows:

Handicraft: Mrs. R. McNaughton, making nylon curtains and rugs.
Home Economics — Mrs. A. Robertson, cake demonstrations, snacks prepared in a hurry, and gadgets on a modern stove.

Citizenship: Mrs. R. Fisher for Mrs. R. Good, child discipline and Woods Christian Home.

Canadian Industries and Agriculture: Mrs. H. Sheils, fur farming, seven interesting points in Alberta, teach our boys to like the farm.

Health and Education: Mrs. L. Hunter, films on cancer and first aid courses.

A new slate of officers was elected as follows: constituency convenor for one year, Mrs. A. L. Hogg; standing committees for a two-year term: Mrs. H. Christensen, Harman; home economics, Mrs. Gordon Ford, Westcott; health, Mrs. P. Hasler, Bancroft; education, Mrs. Ross Youngs, Melvin; agriculture and Canadian industry, Mrs. W. Stiles, Mountain View; citizenship, Mrs. A. L. Hogg, Rugby; social services, Mrs. A. Algrim, Lone Pine.

Mrs. A. Hogg proposed a resolution to be circulated amongst institutes that the next A.W.I. convention be held in Calgary, to enable more members from the south part of the province to attend a provincial convention.

The Lone Pine Orioles Girls' Club report, given by Mrs. O. Bittner, stated that the girls enjoyed an outing to Calgary to see the Ice Cycles and have made gate signs as their provincial project. With a completed handcraft exhibit, the girls are eagerly looking forward to Girls' Club Week in Olds.

Mrs. B. N. Nelson, assistant supervisor, reported for the Rugby Blue Bells. The girls have planted gardens and will send the vegetables to the Red Cross hospital; held speaking contests, wrote short stories, made scrap books and held a food sale.

Mrs. Cliff Bekstrand gave the courtesy report and thanked the entertainers, the W.A. ladies for the tasty "Smorgasbord" lunch served, and all those who helped to make another successful conference.

After "God Save The Queen" the conference adjourned for tea, served by the home economics convenor Mrs. A. Robertson, assisted by volunteers.
